Trash Bags go charity with Good Clean Fundraising

Good Clean Fundraising announces the launch of trash bags as the newest product line in unique and useful fundraising tools.

Be Specific on [Date] May 00, 2016: Fredericksburg's local business owner announces new trash bag fundraising tool, if you're looking to support local schools, non-profits, and charities with useful household products look no further. Good Clean Fundraising is Fredericksburg's own Laundry Detergent fundraising support business. Owner Michael Fitzgerald's company has been in operation since 2012, offering a unique business plan that gives organizations the ability to sell daily use products to raise funds for their financial needs. The latest in their unique fundraising approach is a new line of drawstring trash bags. Available in an assortment of sizes, these beautiful pink trash bags clean up the competition, all while supporting the fundraising efforts of local organizations.

The local company is more than just selling useful products to enable fundraising support, they are also giving back to the community they believe in. With the release of the new drawstring trash bags, Good Clean Fundraising has also committed to Cancer Research, with every pink trash bag sold a portion of the proceeds go to help support Cancer Research. "Most groups generate $4,000-$10,000 in a short 2 to 3-week time span" say's owner Michael Fitzgerald. "At Good Clean Fundraising, we just want to help organizations make their support goals by offering products that are used in households every day." "We want to be more than just another company; we want to give back and with our products quick turnaround, we can do just that with a sizeable donation."
